POETRY.

THE MISANTHROPE'S REVERIE.

By J. WARREN WATSON, South Plymouth.

What's man but a heathenish bandit?
Earth's charity proves but a lie—
'Tis given with looks that remand it;
'Philanthrophy's all in your eye.

Friendship is thing of convenience,
And happiness does not exist;
Hope—something far in the distance:
Honor's a prize-fighter's fist.

Contentment is found in the gutter;
Prosperity's robbing the poor;
Base envy and hatred are thriving;
Morality's voted a boor.

Indeed Young America hates it!
With HIM it is getting "pilyed out;"
He don't go to meeting on Sunday,
He'd rather go fishing for trout.

He's wiser than father and mother,
And proud as a Turkish Hussar;
And ere he's well out of the cradle,
He's puffing a fragrant (!) cigar.

Politeness is taught by our dandies.
When with a fair lady they meet,
They stare at her features a moment,
Then down go their eyes to her feet.

From noting the size of her gaiters
True gentlemen never abstain:
If larger than those of a boy,
They pass her in royal disdain.

Fame's bought from the critic with greenbacks;
Attorneys for lying are paid;
The Printer's ashamed of his calling—
The DEVIL is leaving the trade.

The teacher! and what of the teacher,
Who DARES A YOUNG LADY to strike?
He is the imperious ruler
Of children and parents alike!

Collectors of customs, and doctors—
Poor brainless, humanitie's curse;
Vainglorious "we" is a block-head;
Reporters are sounding much worse.

All honor is due to the clergy;
Their efforts are saving the lost.
The merchant's a very fine fellow,
Who sells all his goods "less than cost."

True virtue a sorry old maid is,
Whose looks keep temptation away;
While fashion makes all our fine ladies,
Who live but to make a display.

True greatness is being successful,
No matter how wrong or how right:
True love is a thing very blissful,
But seldom remains over night.

Both libel and slander are common,
As poets and doggerel rhyme;
Tho' beauty has magical power,
E'en beauty is conquer'd by time.

If Jonathan speak to his Sarah,
Miss Grudy will swear that he kissed her;
For every true woman is ready,
And anxious to help a "frail sister."

Religion, some think, is too holy
For common mankind to possess:
'Tis NOT for the meek and the lowly,
Who cannot "show off" in their dress.

It dwells where the church-steeples tower,
As if they were ladders to Heaven,
'Tis "owned" by a privileged people,
Repentant just one day in seven.

But poverty—worst of all evils—
Will keep you in bondage for life;
'Twill change your connection to d—ls
And make a poor slave of your wife.

Your children are objects of pity,
Aristocracy christens them "brats;"
They are kicked here and there o'er the city
Like spaniels or troublesome rats!

Deception is found in all places—
'Tis born of no section or class;
We all have it marked in our faces—
To prove it, I LOOK IN THE GLASS!

Money to be Made. Business Men Heed.

Business-men of all classes have long admitted the advantages to be derived from a well-regulated system of advertising. To succeed in any undertaking one must make himself and his cause known to the public whose patronage he solicits and upon whose favor he depends. Failing in this, he fails in everything: business seeks other channels, whither it is directed by the agencies now in operation for that purpose; his coffers remain empty; his customers are few, and his sales unremunerative. Experience teaches us that such a man rarely succeeds. However brilliant his prospects may appear, however zealous he may be in his work, and however eager for advancement; if he neglects the elementary step of introducing himself by some method to the people whose wants he would supply, they will ever remain in ignorance of his attainments or his merchandise, and their trade and custom will flow to other marts already established by the means he disdains to avail himself of. So true has this become at the present day, that advertising and success are almost synonymous terms when applied to labor or industry.

Some writer on this subject has ventured the remark, that there is not a single instance of failure of a well-regulated system of advertising! We believe this to be true. Common sense teaches it, and every day's experience confirms it, while the observation of each one who has ever examined the subject, or who will now take the trouble to do so, must lead him to the same conclusion.

Show us your village paper, and without further knowledge we will tell you, from a glance at its local columns, who are its active, energetic businessmen. The man that advertises, shows not only a business talent above his neighbors, but he may be at once reckoned among the independent, generous, and public-spirited of the community. He who hides his light under a bushel, when such advantages as those at present afforded are so freely offered him, does not deserve to succeed. He is, and always will be, deservedly ranked among those who make a failure of life.

There are different methods of reaching the same end, yet we do not consider them equally judicious or profitable. Many, as every one who passes through our streets; sojourns in the country or travels over railroads, well knows, seek to do this by posters, handbills, the paint-pot and the brush; yet we doubt if one ever stops to peruse the poster, or more than cast his his eye over the letters imprinted by the brush. The former is among the things that were, after the first rainstorm, and the latter are obliterated or rendered illegible by a thousand different causes constantly at work. A circular through the Post-Office meets with a less number of readers; a single glance at its contents, coupled with the fact that it is only a circular, prevents a further examination of its merits and condemns it on the spot to a place among the rubbish. The only source left is the newspaper, and this is the sufficient and the generally adopted medium. It is read by all, and its influence and importance in this and kindred matters is now so well established as to render any extended remarks thereon entirely superfluous. Above all others the local paper takes the lead in inportance as an advertising medium. It finds its way, free of postage, to every village in its county, and is read in nearly every house.

And then too, the advertising columns of a county paper are read with as much interest as any other part and the whole is perused by many an eager eye. It is estimated that five persons on an average read every number issued from the country press,—and when we say read we mean advertisements and all. Unlike the city where there is a single hasty glance for the news or the markets, the country paper is carefully scanned as the reflex of the outside bustling world, and it thus becomes the cheapest and the most valuable advertising medium for every one who desires to reach the people and make himself known to all classes.—Boston Advertiser

AN ASTONISHED OLD LADY.

An old lady whose home is in the Cincinnati for several years, came in to do same trading, her principal business being one of the few eventful incidents in hor life, the purchase of a new bonnet. She hadn't had a new bonnet since she was in Cincinnati the last time, and that was seven years ago, nor had she seen any of the newfangled contrivances—"trifles light as air"—which the women wear now-a-days in the place of bonnets. As a new bonnet was the engrossing theme in her mind of entering the city, of course she was on the alert at once to see what the fashon was. Imagine her consternation, then, in standing on Fourth street, watching the people as they passed by. For a time she was perfectly speechless, and then she was observed to throw up her hands and exclaim:

"For the land sakes! are the wimmin all crazy, gaddin' through the streets with nothin' on their blessed heads? What's become of all their bunnets?"

She went into a millinery store and accosted a "gentlemanly and obliging" young lady in attendance:

"You see I come the hull way from Clarmount county to buy a bunnet. I've worn this one goin' on eight years. It's a little out of fashin, I reckon, and I want one that is right in style. I didn't know what the wimmin was wearing', so I stood out her a blessed hour to see 'em pass, and I hope never to see my old man agin if I saw one with a bunnet on durin' the hull time! Some had a doll's handkecher laid on the top of the head: others had what looked for all the world like oyster patties trimmed with blow'd glass, and I declair to goodness if one woman, with a big ruttabaga turnip on the back of her head, in a fly net, wore any coverin' cepting a yaller circus ticket tied on with a string!"

When informed that the styles she had seen were the latest thing in the bonnet line, the old lady's astonishment increased. She declaired tt was enough to drive any one crazy to see such vanities as the women are running to now days. "Twan't so when I was a gal," said she. "Women wore bonnets in them days that covered their heads, anb tied 'em under their chin instid of fast'n 'em to the back hair." She left in great disgust, and said she would go right back to Clairmouut and wear her old bonnets till milliners got to making bonnots again.

THE SOCIAL EVIL.

Its Rapid Growth—Means for Checking it—How Best Effected.

From the Springfield Republican.

A shocking revelation was made in the Thames police court of London, on a recent morning. The report of a case of a young girl of fifteen, arrested for vagrancy, which had been published in the papers, brought to the magistrate a host of letters from all parts of the kingdom, written by fathers and mothers who had lost daughters of the same age, enticed from home to enter upon a career of vice and ruin. The judge made some impressive remarks upon the alarming prevalence of the great social evil prevailing more openly and boldly than at any previous period. Possibly the evil is not so general as these signs indicate; the war brought this and other forms of vice to the surface and rendered them defiant of the popular opinion and conscience; but there is reason enough for the awakening alarm and anxiety on the subject.

The remedies proposed for the evil are various. The Missouri Legislature is considering a law imposing very severe penalties upon sins against chastity, and punishing with imprisonment all who in any way minister to the beastly passions of men. The New York Legislature, theon the or hand, has a bill before it to license houses of prostitution and place them under stringent regulations. The object of it seems to be to compel such a degree of privacy in these establishments as shall prevent them from outraging public decency, and at the same time to protect their customers against the foul diseases that grow out of the riot of lust. There are some who argue that these establishments are essential to the protection of female virtue, and that if they should be repressed altogether seductions would be multiplied a hundred fold. Hence they insist that they are a necessary evil, and the government should restrict and regulate them; that in fact attempts at utter suppression must necessarily fail, and that the civil authorities can go no farther than to prevent them from becoming public nuisances.

After all, the law can accomplish but little against the social evil. The "grand passion," as the French call it, is too strong for any but moral bonds. The young can only be saved from its perversion by proper instruction and warning. And this is the most difficult thing in the world. Positive and public reform efforts aimed directly at the vice often do harm rather than good, by suggesting more evil than they counteract. It is proposed by some metropolitan papers that a society shall be organized to prepare a series of tracts on the subject for general circulation. We doubt the ability of any man or set of men to write tracts on the subject that will not by their suggestions of evil corrupt more than they save. The "moral reform" papers of twenty years ago were bought and calculated by keepers of vile houses, in order to help their business. Every one who has children approaching years of maturity knows how difficult it is to give to them the proper instruction and warning. Yet it must be done by the parent if at all. Public discourse can only touch upon it in vague and general phraseology. Instruction in the physiological and moral considerations connected with it must be private, to be safe and effective. And only the parent, the guardian, or the confidential and trusted friend and adviser, can impart it with sufficient plainness and delicacy. The young must be established in sentiments of purity and virtue. Our boys must be taught to respect virtue and delicacy in the other sex and to feel only contempt and disgust for the opposite faults. They must be taught that there is nothing more sacred in this world than marriage, and that their can be neither self respect nor domestic happiness where its obligations are violated; that, in fine, the divine law on the subject is not a needless restraint, but the natural and inevitable condition of the highest human perfection and enjoyment.

AN INTERESTING STORY.

"Shon, mine Shon," said a worthy German father to his heir of ten years, whom he had overheard using profane language, "Shon, mine Shon! come here an' I vill tell you von little stories. Now, mine Shon, shall it pe a drue story, or a made-pelieve?"

"O, a true story, of course," answered John.

"Ferry vel den. Dere was once a goot, nice old shentleman (shoost like I) andt he had von little poy (shoost like you). Andt von day he heard him, shwearing like a young fillan, and he vas. So he went to der corner and took out a cowhide (shoost as I an doing now), and he took der dirty little blackguard by de collar (dis vay, you see), and vallaped him (shoost so) And den, mine tear Shon, he pull his ears (dis vay) and smack his face (dat vay), and tell him to go mitout his supper, shoost as you vilt do dis efening."

CORRESPONDENT OF THE N. Y. INDEPENDENT.

No abler or purer body of men than our present legislature ever convened in Michigan; and it is dealing not only with dead wrongs, but putting its strong hand upon living oppressions. Churches may still have their negro-pews, while their prejudice continues stronger than their religion; but we are to have no more separate colored schools in Michigan. Some of our cities have had such schools; and, of course, a negro school, the offspring of prejudice, will be an inferior school. A scholar from one of these schools, a colored lad, applied for admission to the graded school. "No, sir! you ain't good looking, and you can't come in. Go to the school established for you by the board." Gov. Blair, recently elected to the next Congress, took measures to bring the case before the supreme court: but, under the broad power of school-boards, I have little doubt the decision would be against him. But how easily a great wrong can be made right, when men have a willing mind!

"The People of the State of Michigan enact: That all residents of any district shall have an equal right to attend any school therein."

This is now law, passed without opposition; and under it good-bye to negro schools in Detroit, Jackson, and other cities with Egyptian school-boards. Gov. Blair's ambitious client may take his books and walk into school with his peers in intellect, and let negro haters eject him at their peril!

Fred. Douglass was here last week, and fully sustained our previous high opinion of his ability. From the journal of the House of Representatives I copy as follows:

"The Hon. Frederick Douglas appeared in the lobby of the hall of the House, on motion of Mr. S. T. Parsons, the speaker was requested to invite the the Hon. Frederick Douglass within the bar of the House. The speaker performed the duty assigned him, and announced Mr. Douglass within the bar, who acknowledged the courtesy of the House, and retired."

And there was no earthquake! How would it have been twenty-five years ago?

SOCIAL EQUALITY.—In a letter to the Indianapolis Journal, in reference to some recent troubles in that city on account of the attempted exclusion of colored people from his lecture, Frederick Douglass thus sums up the whole question of "social equality:"

"You represent me as demanding social equality for the negro. I must ask, is this quite fair? What is social equality? Does it consist of being in the same hall, and on the same floor, listening to the same lecture? Do you regard every man as socially equal with you because you are on the same floor at church, market, hall or elsewhere? Do not character, wealth and intelligence control the matter of social relations? When we meet in a public hall do not we meet as citizens, as the public, rich and poor, noble and ignoble, standing upon a common footing? And is not this well? But is it not quite another thing to force me into association with all I meet as equal citizens in street or hall? My parlor, and my table, and my hand are my own, and I can choose my own friends and associates, and you have the same right; but when you go into a public hall you venture beyond your parlor limits, and your right ends where that of another man begins."

THE PROPOSED FEMALE COLLEGE.

Senator Childs spoke ably and eloquently for the bill. When the Senator's powers are fully aroused, he has no superior in sending conviction to the listening mind, in the Senate. He was fully aroused on this subject. He defended the college with signal ability and address. In reply to the suggestion that the State could not afford to assume this expense now and that it should be deferred, he said with stirring eloquence that the State could not afford to wait, if the women could. Senators did not ask the women to wait in the dread hour of our country's peril; their help was welcomed gladly, and her work was of the most transcendant importance. She went to the battle-field and to the hospital, a ministering angel; carrying healing and hope and courage with her inspiring presence. He would not forfeit his own self-respect now by coldly telling her to wait, now when she prefers this modest and moderate request. She should not wait longer if he could secure her reward. In regard to locality, he said it was not a local question, but a State question, and he should vote to put it, not where Lansing wanted it or Kalamozoo or Ypsilanti, but where the good of the entire State demanded that it should be. If he consulted his local preferances, he should certainly urge the claims of Ann Arbor or Ypsilanti, but he believed it was a far broader question, and that the best interests of the State, demanded it should be north of the Central Railroad. His only question was whether it aught not to go still farther north. But Lansing was the farthest point south which he could consent to its going. The Senator was magnanimous and just in his views, eminently,—Lansing Republican.

Though we appreciate our Senator, and would defer to him as soon as any one in the range of our acquantance, we cannot endorse the necessity of a separate Female College. Open the doors of our University, enlarge facilties of our Normal School The building up of such a Female University, as proposed would involve hundreds of thousands of dollars. It would be a crime to enlarge our taxation burdens. Again we are opposed to sending our daughters abroad to these boarding schools.

LILLY'S SOLILOQUY.—Oh! the bonnets of my girlhood—the kind I wore to school. I really thought them pretty then—I must have been a fool. And yet I used to thing myself on hats a jaunty miss, perhaps I was, as fashion went, but what was that! Oh! the lovely little buckwheat cake, the charming little mat! it makes my head so levil and so very, very flat.—Oh! isn't it a circumstanee; oh! aint it magn fique—so earnest so progressive—like a lifetime in a week! When I wore it out to Canada, they cried lebuncum saw! When I came into the opera, folks shouted loud, "hurrah!" When the other damsels saw it, they shruuk with envy's pain—'tis Bismark among bonnets ganz aufgezeichnet schaen. Oh, a sisters love is charming, as everybody knows, and a handsome cousin's love is nice (that is I should suppose;) and the love of a true lover is a love that cannot pall—but a love of a new bonnet is the dearest love of all.

the different towns and cities will send th usual number of delegates to said Convetion Convention.

CURRENT EVENTS.

The land is aroused. The Fenians are actively in the field. Tipperary county is the centre of rebellion. The Gultee Mountains are said to be swarming with Fenians. The rebels will, of course, be put down by the strong power of England. But then England cannot repress the sympathy of the American people. The Irishmen of America cannot forget the land of their forefathers—the green bogs of their native Isle. We are for Ireland.

The Democracy of Alexandria undertook to refuse the ballot to the negro; so their votes were taken separately—a defiance of the Reconstruction law. Stupid men—mistaken souls. They will find that it is not as safe to trample on human rights as one year ago. The proscription narrow course of the Democracy will drive off the negro vote for a century to come. The ten rebel States are sure to be reorganized under the reconstruction law. The N. Y. World recommends it. And the rebel press begin to see their folly, and acknowledge that they must submit. An attempt has been made to assassinate Victor Emanuel.

Ex-Senator Cowan has been rejected as minister to Austria. The Johnson appointments in this State are pretty well cleaned out, and a new deal is in order, which must embrace mostly Republicans. Senator Wilson has introduced a supplementary to the Reconstruction Bill, making certain universal suffrage, universal education and giving the control of the States into the hands of the truly loyal men. The five Generals under the Military Bill are General Schofield, headquarters, Richmond; General Sickles, Columbia; Thomas, Montgomery; Sheridan, New Orleans; Ord, Vicksburg.

Philip Franais Thomas is elected U. S. Senator from Maryland.

Though the general Tarrif Bill failed our Michigan farmers will be thankful that the tarriff on wool has been raised.

It is said that the supplementary Bill proposing a registration of voters in rebel States will be signed by the President. We don't believe it.

The Democracy have nominated Sanford M. Greene, of Pontiac, for Chief Justice. Regents, Wm. M. Ferry, of Otawa, Dr. E. Wells, of Washtenaw. Some very conservative and rebelish resolutions were adopted by a close vote and after a most exciting debate. The democracy are bent on going down with the rebel flag flying.

All praise to New Hampshire. The Republicans have elected Gen. Farriman governor by 3,000 majority, all the representatives in Congress (3), and a large majority in the legislature.

LEGISLATURE.

$20,000 has been appropriated to erect an additional building for the use of the Agricultural College. A tax of 1-20 of a mill upon the valuation of the State has been authorized for the benifit of the University. It will amount to about $16,000. Railroads are on the rampage. 17 bills passed the House in one day. We trust the Senate or veto of the Governor will knock them on the head. A raid has been made on our swamp lands to make roads to the tune of a million of acres. We doubt the policy. Let the settlers make the roads. They will make them far better and cheaper. Now, instead of being occupied by actual settlers, they will be owned by a horde of greedy speculators.

A presentation of a handsome bible has been made to Speaker Warner.

OUR SCHOOL BOARD.

The following article has been handed in by a responsible party. We presume an explanation can be made, which will satisfy tax-payers and all others. Our columns are open for an explanation on the part of any member of the acting Board. It is our earnest desire to deal justly and generously by all parties.

Mr. Editor—Last week's issue of the Commercial contained a copy of a bill introdueed into the Legislature, by Mr. Jenness, to regulate the manner of electing trustees of the District Board of this school district, and defined the qualification of electors therefor. The efforts of our representative in securing the passage of this bill, instead of being commended by the members of our school board, a renthesis, and is signed as follows:

C. JOSLIN, Sec.
C. WOODRUFF, Prest.
D. B. DODGE, Treas.

Dated at City of Ypsilanti, County of Washtenaw, Sept. 18, 1866.

Whether the features of this new law are all found in the old school laws or not, it is certain they were not found in practice, and if the new law shall result in nothing more, it will be a very desirable state of affairs if it shall secure, by honest means, a board who can, to say the least, come within forty-seven hundred dollars of balancing their school report.

If any explanation can be given to the deficiency of this surplus fund, whether it has been used to take up some of those unmatured seven per cent bonds, or whether dormant in the treasury, or kept moving for some good purpose, or what, it matters not so much, only let the tax-payers have that explanation.

If the amount $195 is a mistake, and there is $4,921 67 now in hand lying idle, we would suggest a small portion might be profitably expended in increasing the salaries of the female teachers, and an adequate sum expended in procuring for the use and benefit of the board a copy of Dabol's old arithmetic.

Yours truly,
TAX-PAYER.

THE VERGIN SOIL OF AMERICA.

The discovery of America with its immense forests of valuable timber, and boundless prairies of unexampled fertility, opened a new arena for civilization. Europe and Asia in the lapse of ages of despotism and with a dense population has become "cramped, cribbed, cabin'd and confined." The power of the priest and crown has crushed out and extinguished the expansions of man's intellect. There was an opportunity for the development of the aspiring genius. Had America remained unknown to the present day, it is easy to predict that the world would have still remained paralysed, shackled and benighted as in the dark ages. The wonderful improvement we now behold in science, art, knowledge, government and refinement would have still lain dormant, waiting in the embroyo of the future for development.

Or had America been a vast desert like Sahara the wonderful results we are contemplating had never transpired. Nature is therefore the handmaid to man's wisdom and improvement. She has toiled for interminable ages to produce the vast forests and rich muck of the prairies. This virgin soil was in fact a rich bed of ocean to feed the hungry hordes rushing across the Atlantic. They found that to "tickle the earth with a hoe and she would laugh with a harvest" was adage as true as trite. But it is found by experience, that this rich bed of cream becomes exhausted in about 30 years. Nature seems therefore to have told man in plain terms that she would take care of him while he was obliged to creep, but must take care of himself as soon as he could run alone. Still caressing him however, she stored the land with abundance of fertilizers in the form of muck, guano gypsum etc. Our State possesses enough of the latter to last it for ages. Grand Rapids has produced immense quantities of an excellent quality. Now we learn that the newly discovered bed of plaster at Alabastro on Saginaw Bay proves to be superior to even the Grand Rapids. The Alabastro is being rapidly introduced into our markets and every where meets with the highest favor.

Presentation.

Wednesday morning Prof. Estabrook who is in town making preperations to leave conducted the religious exercises at the Union School. Totally unexpected to him after the services, Miss Aristine Glover came forward and in a beautiful, feeling speech presented the professor on the part of his old pupils and friends, an ice pitcher, silver goblets and a dozen silver forks, cost $90,00 purchased at J. A. Dwights. The professor was taken totally by surprise. He responded feelingly, almost overcome by emotion at so unexpected a work of esteem. Revs. Messrs Tindall and Smart were present and made remarks. A half hour was happily spent in social intercourse. As we have said heretofore the professor leaves behind him many friends who sincerely regret his departure from our midst. Ypsilanti's loss is East Saginaw's gain. Much credit is due to Miss Hellen Post and Miss Glover for securing these valuable presents.

M. and was struck and after he was down kicked and severely injured. Over $500 on his person was taken. A Mr. John Rowley also known as Dick Norton is arrested and taken to Dexter for examination. He asserts that he can prove an alabi. We trust so.

Woodruff moved that the report of the Com. on Fire Department, in relation to the petition of W. E. Cheever for leave to erect a frame building on the north east corner of Ellis and Adams St., be taken from the tabie. The motion having prevailed, Ald. Woodruff moved that the prayer of the petition be granted. Adopted—ayes, 7—nays, 0. Ald. Bush from same committee intrusted to asceatain the probable expense of laping pipes from the cistern on Cross st. to the cistern at the Depot, made verbal report, that the pipes of Norway pine could be obtained at 10 cents a foot; that the distance between the two cisterns was 700 feet, and that the whole cost, including excavation would be $125. Adobted, and committee discharged.

From Fire Warden, 2nd Dist., the following report:

To the Hon. the Common Council:—

The undersigned, Fire Warden of the 2nd Judicial Dist., having complied with the reduirements of his office, begs leave to report: That no material damage has been done in this District by fire during the past year. People in general are veay careful in regard to this useful, yet dangerous element. There are however some exceptions—some who are careless—seldom to be found among those who own buildings, but quite too often among those who rent. This carelessness lies chiefly in depositing ashes in barrels and poxes either in or near the building. Quite a number of such instances have recently come under my observation. Some ash boxes setting within one foot of wooden dwellings have been on fire, considerably burned, and only by a timely discovery kept from communicating the flames to the buildings adjoining. "We never empty our ashes till perfectly cold," is a common expression, yet it has been found that these same "cold" ashes contained enough caloric to fire the box in which they were deposited. Another and not less important matter is the cleaning of chimneys. This is too much neglected. All chimneys in constant use should be cleaned at least once a year, else by the accumulation of soot, and the consequent diminishing of the flue, they are liable to take fire of themselves, and bursting set the building in flames. Many houses (I might say a majority) are unprovided with any means of access to the roof. The owners of such houses, in case of fire, would greatly feel the need of a ladder, and perhaps have the unpleasant reflection afterwards, that for the want of such an article, they not only lost their own, but caused the destruction of their neighbor's property. If "one ounce of prevention be equal to a pound of cure," how much more would insure perfect safety!

My attention has been particularly called, by several persons, to the spoke factory corner of Cross and River streets. On inspection I find all safe except in the work room in the lower story. A little more care here in keeping the shavings away from the stove, if it had no other effect, would at least show that the occupants wished to "avoid even the appearance of evil" and thus allay the fears of their friends.

Respectfully submitted,
J. E. PUTNEY
Fire Warden 2d District.

Those irreverent lads who called names aftes a certain "bald head" of old, deserve their untimely end because at that time no panacea had been discovered to restore the human hair upon the bald spots. But now Ring's Vegetable Ambrosia is known to possess the rare merit of invigorating the root and filling them so full of life, where not entirely dead that they cannot help putting forth a new growth which rivals in beauty he locks of youth.

Wonderful but True.

Madame Remington, the world-renowned Astrologist and Somnambulistic Clairvoyant, while in a clairvoyant state, delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of immense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a perfect and life like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, with date of marriage, occupation, leading traits of character, &c. This is no imposition, as testimonials without number can assert. By stating place of birth, age, disposition, color of eyes and hair, and enclosing fifty cents, and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture by return mail, together with desired information.

A Young Lady returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the City was hardly recognised by her friends. In place of a coarse rustic flushed face, she had a soft ruby complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty-three she really appeared but eighteen. Upon inquire as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she used the CIRCASSIAN BALM, and considered it an invaluable acquistion to any Lady' toilet. By its use any Lady or Gentleman can improve thir personal appearance a hundred fold. It is simple in its combinations, as Nature herself is simple yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurites from, also healing, cleaning and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its impurites, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as Nature intended it should be. clear soft smooth and beautiful. Reparator Capilli.

Throw away your false frizzers, your switches, your wig, Destructive of comfort, and not worth a fig;
Come aged, come youthful, come ugly and fair,
And rejoice in your own luxuriant hair.

REPARATOR CAPILLI.

For restoring hair upon bald heads (from whatever cause it may have fallen out) and forcing a growth of hair upon the face, it has no equal. It will force the beard to grow upon the smoothest face in from five to eight weeks, or hair upon bald heads in from two to three months. A few ignorant practitioners have asserted that there is nothing that will force or hasten the growth of the hair or beard. Their assertions are false, as thousands of living witnesses (from their own experience) can bear witness. But many will say, how are we to distinguish the genuine from the spurious? It certainly is difficult, as nine-tenths of the different Preparations advertised for the hair and beard are entirely worthless, and you may have already thrown away large amounts in their purchase. To such we would say, try the Reparator Cappilli; it will cost you nothing unless it fully comes up to our representations. If your Druggist does not keep it, send us one dollar and we will forward it, postpaid, together with a receipt for the money, which will be returned you on application, providing entire satisfaction is not given. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC,

This medicine, invented by Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, is intended to dissolve the food and make it into chyme, the first process of digestion. By cleansing the stomach with Schenck's Mandrake Pills, the Tonic soon restores the appetite, and food that could not be eaten before using it will be easily digested.

Consumption cannot be cured by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup unless the stomach and liver is made healthy and the appetite restored, hence the Tonic and Pills are required in nearly every case of consumption. A half dozen bottles of the SEAWEED TONIC and three or four boxes of the MANDRAKE PILLS will cure any ordinary case of dyspepsia.

Dr. SCHENCK makes professional visits in New York, Boston, and at his principal Office in Philadelphia every week. See daily papers of each place, or his pamphlet on consumption for his days for visitation.

Please observe, when purchasing, that the two likenesses of the Doctor, one when in the last stage of Consumption, and the other as he now is, in perfect health, are on the Government stamp.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, price $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half-dozen. All letters for advice should be addressed to Dr. SCHENCK'S Principal Office, No. 15 North 6th Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Astrology. The World Astonished

At the wonderful revelations
Made by the great astrologist
MADAME H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catasthrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secresy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER, INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, CATARRH OF THE BLADDER.

STRANGURY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms.

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back and through the hips? A teaspoonful a day of the Constitution Water will relieve you like magic.

PHYSICIANS

Have long since given up the use of buchu, cubebs and juniper in the treatment of these diseases, and only use them for the want of a better remedy.

CONSTITUTION WATER

Has proved itself equal to the task that has devolved upon it.

DIURETICS

Irritate and drench the kidneys, and by constant use soon lead to chronic degeneration and confirmed disease.

We present the Constitution Water to the public with the conviction that it has no equal in relieving the class of diseases for which it has been found so eminently successful for curing; and we trust that we shall be rewarded for our efforts in placing so valuable a remedy in a form to meet the requirements of patient and physician.

Stroudsburg, Pa., JAN. 20, 1866.

DR. GREGG.

Dear Sir:—I wish to inform you that I have been under the treatment of some of our best physicians for nearly two years, without receiving any benefit. I had lost all confidence, and I indulged in but little hope of a cure from any source. My disease was Dropsy, and my physicians told me that there was no cure for me. I was tapped some fifty times, and at the different operations about 1200 pounds of water was removed.

I am happy to inform you that I have been completely restored to health by the use of Constitution Water.

I make this statement hoping it may reach those persons who may be similarly afflicted.

Respectfully,
MRS. MARGILL C. LEVANWAY

IN DYSMENORRHŒA, OR PAINFUL MENSTRUATION, AND MENORRHAGIA, OR PROFUSE FLOWING.

Both diseases arising from a faulty secretion of the menstrual fluid—in one case being too little and accompanied by severe pain, and the other a too profuse secretion, which will be speedily cured by the Constitution Water.

That disease known as FALLING OF THE WOMB, which is the result of a relaxation of the ligaments of that organ, and is known by a sense of heaviness and dragging pains in the back and sides, and at times accompanied by sharp, lancinating or shooting pains through the parts, will, in all cases, be removed by the medicine.

There is another class of symptoms arising from IRRITATION OF THE WOMB, which physicians call Nervousness, which word covers up much ignorance, and in nine cases out of ten the doctor does not really know whether the symptoms are the disease, or the disease the symptoms. We can only enumerate them here. I speak more particularly of Cold Feet, Palpitation of the Heart, Impaired Memory, Wakefulness, Flashes of Heat, Languor, Lassitude, and Dimness of Vision.

READ! READ!! READ!!!

DANVILLE, Pa., June, 1862.—Dr. William H. Gregg—Dear Sir:—In February, 1861, I was afflicted with sugar diabetes, and for five months I passed more than two gallons of water in twenty-four hours. I was obliged to get up as often as ten or twelve times during the night, and in five months I lost about fifty pounds in weight. During the month of July, 1861, I procured two bottles of Constitution Water, and in two days after using it I experienced relief, and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured, soon after regaining my usual good health.

Yours truly, J. V. L. DE WITT.

BOSTON CORNERS, N. Y., Dec. 27, 1861.—Wm. H. Gregg & Co.—Gents:—I freely give you liberty to make use of the following certificate of the value of Constitution Water, which I can recommend in the highest manner:—My wife was attacked with pain in the shoulders, whole length of the back, and in her limbs, with palpitation of the heart and irritation of the bladder. I called a physician, who attended her about three months, when he left her worse than he had found her. I then employed one of the best physicians I could find, who attended her for about nine months, and while she was under his care she did not suffer quite as much pain. He finally gave her up, and said "her case was incurable. For," said he, "she has such a combination of complaints that medicine given for one operates against some other of her difficulties." About this time she commenced the use of Constitution Water, and to our utter astonishment, almost the first dose seemed to have the desired effect, and she kept on improving rapidly under its treatment, and now superintends entirely her domestic affairs. She has not taken any of the Constitution Water for about four weeks, and we are happy to say that it has produced a permanent cure.

WM. M. VAN BENSCHOTEN.

WEATHERSFIELD, Conn., March 2, 1863.—Dr. W. H. Gregg.—Dear Sir:—Having seen your advertisement of "Constitution Water," recommended for Inflammation of the Kidneys and Irritation of the Bladder, having suffered for the past three years, and tried the skill of a number of physicians with only temporary relief, I was induced to try your medicine. I procured one bottle of your agents at Hartford, Messrs. Lee, Sisson & Co., and when I had used half of it, to my surprise, I found a great change in my health. I have used two bottles of it, and am where I never expected to be in my life, well, and in good spirits. I cannot express my gratitude for it; I feel that it is all and more than you recommend it to be. May the blessing of God ever attend you in your labors of love.

Yours truly,

SYMPTOMS

The symptoms of Catarrh are at first very slight. Persons find they have a cold, that they have frequent attacks, and are more sensitive to changes of temperature. In this condition the nose may be dry, or a slight discharge thin and acrid, afterward thick and adhesive may ensue.

As the disease becomes chronic the discharges are increased in quantity and changed in quality: they are now thick and heavy and are are hawked or coughed off. The secretions are offensive, causing bad breath; the voice thick and nasal; the sense of smell is lessened or destroyed; deafness frequently takes place.

Another common and important symptom of Catarrh is that the person is obliged to clear his throat in the morning of a slimy mucus, which has fallen from the head during the night

The above are but a few of the many catarrhal symptoms. Write to our Laboratory for our pamphlet describing fully all symptoms—It will be sent free to any address.

This remedy contains no mineral or poisonous ingredients but is prepared from vegetable extracts exclusively; therefore it is perfectly harmless, even to the most tender and delicate child.

BEEF PACKING IN TEXAS.

The editor of the Corpus Christi (Texas) Advertiser, in his paper of the 26th January, gives a long and interesting account of the new process of curing beef by infiltration, as seen under his own eyes. If his new method succeeds, and the men who have taken hold of it never fail in anything they undertake, the result will be of immense benefit to the stock raising interests of the Nueces region, and to the whole State of Texas, for that matter. We copy the account of the first day's work entire:

Per invitation of Mr. Turner, we were "in at the death" of the first beef at the Nueces Beef Packing establishment, on Wednesday morning last.—Quite a crowd of visitors, attracted by curiousity, were present to witness the novel operation of curing beef by infiltration.

A fine fat bullock had been selected, and when we arrived the workmen had already performed the knock down operation. The beef was upon his back, and a saw was cutting its way through the brisket, to enable the operator to get at the heart. This done, an incision was then made in the right ventricle of the heart the carcass turned upon its side, and the blood allowed to escape. Then it was again rolled upon its back, a small incision made in the left ventricle of the heart, and a small hose pipe inserted. (It may be necessary to state that to the pipe was attached a rubber hose and by tracing the hose about ten feet in the direction of the building, it terminated in the bottom of a barrel of brine, hoisted there by means of a windlass.] The pipe was inserted full length, entering the juggular vein, and then secured by a stout cord. The brine was then turned on, and the process of infiltration commenced. The first innision in the right ventricle of the heart was closed by a clamp.

All watch patiently to see the effect. Soon the carcass became stiff and rigid and cooled rapidly. Mr. Turner, by a dexterous and skillfull operation amputated and about an inch of the tail. Instead of blood, brine spirted out with force. All took a taste and acknowledge the corn." In ten minutes the brine that had been through the veins was as cool as when it came from the tank. Incisions were made different parts of the carcass, and from each jets of brine would squirt to the distance of three and four feet.

The carcass was again rolled upon its side, the clamp taken off the incision in the right ventricle, and out came the brine that had gone in at the left ventricle and had traveled through every artery and vein where blood circulates. By continuing to force in the brine the blood was forced out, so that in fifteen or twenty minutes the escaping brine was but slightly colored with cool blood. By this time the carcass was cold and stiff, ready to skin, cut up, pack and ship to any part of the world.

RATS EATING HOGS.—A correspondent of the Auburn Advertiser, writing from Summer Hill, says that John W. Hayden, who lives on the farm of Daniel J. Shaw, had a number of hogs, weighing some 200 pounds each, which were kept in a pen on the premises. On the morning of the 13th ult, Mr Hayden went to the pen and found one of the hogs dead, having actually been killed and partially devoured by rats. On the following evening the rats again attacked the pen, injuring another of the hogs quite seriously. After the second raid of these ferocious vermin, it was deemed advisable to remove the remaining hogs in order to save their lives, and they were accordingly transferred to other quarters.

CANDIES.

THERE is a disposition with many to keep up a perpetual nibling, or eating. More specially is this the case with young people and children. Much of the time, when not asleep, there is somthing in their mouths; of course it finds its way into the stomach. Prominent among the selection of palatable are candies. A supply is easily kept on hand readily to be eaten in season and out of serson. Some are even medicated. Lozenges for the throat, peppermint and pepper drops for the stomach, preparations of sorts and varieties too numerous to mention, fixed up in very attractive manner—pleasing both to the sense of sight and taste.

Ido not know of anything to say in favor of these little commodities. Much, however may be said to condemn the practice of eating them. We fully endorse the sentiment that confectionaries are a public curse; not merely for the reason that they are colored with poisonous ingredients, adulterated with from one to three parts of white earth and flavored with deleterious substances and poisonous drugs, but their use spoils the relish for simple, healthy food, perverts the taste,—creating an artigeirl appetite for rich, highly seasoned, unwholesome, article of diet.

Upon the teeth is the ruinous effect powerfully seen, a sure indication that the stomach has being injured. Candy besides causing acidity of the stomach, overloads it, being too concetrated for it, thus stupefying the brain, breeding, worms and producing disease.

An Irishman who was troubled with the toothache determined to have an old offender extracted; but, there being no dentist near, he resolved to do the job himself; whereupon he filled the excavation with powder, but, being afraid to touch it off, he put a slow-match to it, and then ran to get out of the way.
